

Over 60% Advanced Materials Articles Were from China

Our investigation reveals that about 61% Advanced Materials articles published in 2025 have a Chinese first author.

In 2025, Advanced Materials published 4,243 articles, of which 2,571 have a Chinese first author, accounting for 61% of the total publications of the journal in the specific year. Those 2,571 articles received an average of 15.7 citations each.

The data used in this analysis was obtained from OpenAlex.

This article is licensed to the 5GH Foundation under a CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 International License